DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1 – 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Based upon recent court decisions, in order to comply with §101 a process must (1) be tied to another statutory class of invention (such as a particular apparatus or system for performance of the claimed process) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing.

The method, recited in Claims 1 - 9, fails to be tied to another statutory class of invention, as there is no recitation that a machine is used to perform said method. The method also fails to transform underlying subject matter to a different state or thing, as there is no recitation that the method is being performed by anything other than human intelligence. Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed 07/07/08, with respect to §103 rejections have been fully considered and are persuasive. The §103 rejections of 04/04/08 have been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 - 9 are allowed.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).
